LEGISLATOR FROM SOUTH MISSISSIPPI WRITES LETTER

Author of Law Requiring Sectional Index of Lands Offers Explanation. His Viewpoint. Does Not Tell of Total Cost. Note by Sentinel Editor.

Lumberton, Miss., Feb. 19, 1923.
Editor Grenada Sentinel,

A copy of your valuable paper of February 9, 1923, is before me and in which I note that you criticise chapter 255 of laws of 1920 whereby boards of supervisors are required to supply the chancery clerk's office with sectional index to lands situate in each county for public use. I also have a letter before me from one of your leading citizens and tax payers wherein I am asked for a frank discussion of this law through the columns of your paper so that the public might understand the purpose and benefits of same—the letter further states that you are just and impartial and will doubtless publish the article for the benefit of your readers. I wrote the law in question.

Chapter 255 of the legislative acts of 1920 whereby boards of supervisors are required to place in the chancery clerk's office as a public record sectional index to land numbers is a rescript and enlargement of Sec. 321 of the Code of 1906 which has been a law in this state for more than 30 years. It must be remembered that Chapter 326 of the 1920 laws provides that Boards of Supervisors cannot issue warrants for any purpose unless they have cash in the treasury with which to cash the warrant, therefore, unless there is sufficient funds in the general county treasury of Grenada County with which to pay for the work the contract should not have been let, but aside from this, let us discuss the wisdom of the law.

The writer has been engaged in abstracting work, largely for small farmers for 14 years. I found that in counties where no sectional index was provided, that abstracting companies had a monopoly on the abstracting work and would charge the landowner 75c per page whereas I did the work for 50c per page in counties where the sectional index was provided; so then, I was thus compelled to pay the abstracting company 25c per page for the index references—and charge this to the landowner, thereby making him pay 75c per page for his abstract which should not have cost him but 50c per page. I presume this system largely prevailed in your county. Most counties in this section have complied with the 1920 law and now landowners only pay 50c per page for their abstracts and are all much pleased with the results of this law. The above remarks are from the attorney's viewpoint who is in sympathy with the landowner—90 per cent of whom are farmers.

I now present the landowner's benefits: Today a landowner may go into the chancery clerk's office at Grenada to look over his land record and he is like a "blind dog in a meat-house" he sees nothing, knows nothing of his chain of title—it must be remembered that all land titles flow from the United States government originally, like water flows from a springhead, and from thence through regular chain of title-mense conveyances, down to the present landowner. When the sectional index is properly installed as the law contemplates, any farmer of Grenada County can go to the clerk's office—any landowner as for that matter, and trace his land title from the United States government down to himself. Every break in his chain of title, every suit effecting his title, every tax sale touching his land and every subsequent conveyance or other act whereby his title is effected will be cited as they occur; so then, if something wrong appears he may seek counsel and have the defect cured and his title perfected.

It is an undisputed fact that defects in title exist with landowners throughout Mississippi in thousands of instances, caused by incompetent persons writing deeds, errors in assessments—followed by tax sales, neglecting to file deeds for record, etc., etc., as a result many people pay for "and reside upon lands in blissful ignorance" of the defects in their title—finally death seals their lips, suit is brought and their heirs literally skinned out of their inheritance, when as a matter of fact, had the defects been discovered while the parents were living, the defects could have been corrected and the estate left intact for those whom they love. Population is increasing, lands are becoming more valuable, laws are being more technically applied, therefore, the board of supervisors of Grenada County did the greatest service for the landowners of your county when they provided for a sectional index for your lands.

In your article you complain about reckless expenditures by the last legislature, and in response to this I wish to say that I am chairman of "the tight wad committee" and as such I did all in my power to prevent reckless expenditures of the taxpayers money, but we were outnumbered in the legislature and received but little sympathy from the public press of the state—it now remains for the voters to render their verdict—the result of which I await with pleasure.

Yours very truly,
JOHN A. YEAGER,
Chairman Judiciary Committee of the House.

Editorial Note—We gladly give space to Mr. Yeager's communication. Even the causal reader will readily observe that Mr. Yeager has said quite a great deal without touching the real meat of the objections we urged against the law.

Our article recited that the contract for the work had been awarded by the board of supervisors at and for the sum of $6500, and we further stated our reasons for thinking that the law would be of no benefit to any class outside of the lawyers and abstracting companies and that is what Mr. Yeager is trying to explain away. We said:

"When the work is completed, it will hardly be of any benefit to the average tax-payer. When one wants an abstract of his land, the abstracting company or some attorney will find his task a great deal easier and simpler, but it will not cost the man who owns the land and who wants the

NEGRO SONGS AND PLANTATION MELODIES

Will Be Rendered at Negro School Building Tonight To Secure Funds for Home for Old Negroes. Something That Specially Appeals to White People. The Debt to the Old Negro.

There is to be an entertainment specially for the white people at the colored school building in Grenada tonight (Friday) Feb. 23, the purpose being to raise some money for the Home provided by some of the more benevolent minded white people of Grenada County. The entertainment will consist of plantation songs and religious music, and it is the opinion of a very great many Southerners that nobody can sing like the negroes.

The writer was reared on the farm. From his earliest infancy he recalls the negroes that made the fires, that waited around the house, the cook, and sundry others. It is a sweet recollection. Some of his best friends were these negroes. They were his protectors; they were loyal, they were kind and true. When any of the family were ill, they were there both day and night ready for any call or for any service. Especially does he recall "Frank", a darkey that was once the property of his mother's father. Frank was as black as the ace of spades, but had a head full of sense and was a perfect Chesterfield in his manner. Frank enjoyed privileges about the home almost equal to one of the family. These and hundreds of other things connected with the old home and the farm come to the mind in thinking of the old darkeys. No irreverent statement is intended in saying that the one who pens these lines shall be disappointed if he does not find "Frank", as well as many other colored people, in that beautiful land beyond the skies.

These old negroes are wards of the white people. The white people owe to them to see that their last days are not spent in want or misery. That much is due any race or people, but a special obligation rests upon the South as to the unfortunate colored man and woman.

Only recently the South's most gifted statesman and Mississippi's most distinguished son, John Sharp Williams, made a beautiful plea in Washington City for a monument to the colored "Mammy"—they deserve all that the Senator said.

It is sometimes thought that the custom is too much today to send alms way away from home or to some distant land—these are better advertised. But these old negroes are right at the door of the home. Hence it is that The Sentinel states that there is everything to appeal to the best sentiment of Grenada about the entertainment tonight. The admission price is 25 cents. It is worth the price. It will make one better to hear "Swing low, sweet chariot coming for to carry me home" and other songs which only a negro can sing.

This Home for these negroes is right here in Grenada. Bear in mind, too, that some of the better-to-do negroes of the County are aiding in maintaining it. The story of its being started and the names of those behind it have been repeatedly referred to in these columns. Help yourself by helping these old negroes.

THE WEALTH OF THE STATES OF THE UNION

Mississippi Lowest in Per Capita Wealth and Nevada Highest. Mississippi and Louisiana about the Same in Area and Population. Food for Mississippi Thought.

The whole country is casting about, somewhat like a mariner in a turbulent sea or one in a leaky boat in the current of an angry river headed for the falls, trying to find a place to land, hence the Editor of this paper has been consulting records and studying statistics in the hope that some anchor might be found that would put at least this section to where it might inspire it to get leverage to lift itself to the rock of stability and security. So much is said by enthuisastic speakers at times about what Mississippi is not doing as compared with other states, that it was thought not to be a bad idea to get the wealth of the different states and the percapita wealth of each. The figures below are taken from the Census records and are the latest available. The figures for 1922 are in process of preparation but have not yet been published. Of course there has been a marked advancement since 1912, but the contrast will be all the worse for Mississippi and all the Southern states. The greatest gain in wealth since 1912 has been in the eastern and western states. It will be noted that Mississippi ranks lowest in per capita wealth and that Nevada ranks highest. Nevada's high rank is because that state has a population of only 77,407 and an area of 109,821 square miles. That State has some of the richest silver mines in the whole country. Nevada's population per square mile is 0.7. Mississippi has a population of 1,790,618 and an area in square miles of 46,362. Its population per square mile is 38.6. Louisiana, for example, has an area of 45,409 square miles, slightly less than Mississippi; a total population of 1,798,509 and her population is 39.6 per square mile. Louisiana's per capita wealth is $1260, while Mississippi's is only $726.

PINE CREST HOGS BOUGHT FOR GLENWILD

Another Big Thing for Grenada and Grenada County. Glenwild Will Be Greatest Hog Farm in the South. Some Little History of the Stock of Hogs.

The entire herd of blooded Duroc-Jersey swine on the Pine Crest farm, at Charleston, owned by Col. Tom G. James, has been acquired by John Borden, millionaire cattle and milk man, for the Glenwild Plantation at Grenada, and will be removed to permanent quarters there as quickly as quarters for them can be completed.

The herd contains 125 head of the finest stock in the south, including the famous boars Scissors ,champion of the world, and Jackson's Orion King, International grand champion. Col. James refused $50,000 cash for Scissors in 1919 from a Louisville, Ky., breeder. The purchase price of the pine Crest herd by Borden is said to be around $20,000.

While Scissors' herd continues to uphold the blooded traditions of the peer, the boar himself now is aged. Hence the reduction in present value.

The price said to have been paid was considered fair by breeders. Col.

"Dear Friend,

"Our friends throughout the state are very much interested in electing a governor this year, who will take care of the interests of the plain people. We have such a man in the person of ex-Senator Leslie C. Franklin, who now resides in Clarksdale, but was born and reared in Choctaw County. His four years as state senator and his life have been spent in voting and working for a square deal to everybody in Mississippi.

"I do not think that Governor Bilbo will enter the race. If he does, he will get a very small support because he has betrayed Senator Vardaman and myself as well as Senator Franklin. He was one of the leaders along with Brewer and the insurance trusts

GRENADA LAYMEN ORGANIZE AND ADOPT WORKING CHART

What They Endeavor To Do. Open to Invitations from Country Communities. Program and Advertising Committees. Jackson Flying Squadron Will Probably Be Here

The Laymen's meet held Sunday afternoon resulted in a permanent orgganization and the adopting of a working chart or a sort of By-Laws.

The following officers had been previously chosen: C. C. White, president; A. M. Carothers, vice president; J. C. Wilson, secretary and O. F. Lawrence, treasurer.

The committee named at the meeting the Sunday before submitted the following working chart or by-laws, which were adopted without a dissenting vote:

Believing in the efficacy and the power of the Gospel of the Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, and that it is the duty of all men to subscribe to His banner and to emulate His life and to take His message to others; and realizing that it is the duty of each and every individual to bear witness for Jesus, and to let the world know that he is at least making an honest effort to serve his Lord by sincere efforts to make the world better and happier, and to stand for the things taught in the Ten Commandments and the Sermon on the Mount, the Laymen of the different churches of Grenada have determined to make a united effort to live more nearly up to the standard which God demands, and to that end have determined to band themselves together for the most effective Christian work of which they are capable.

In taking this step we would not be understood as considering our lives blameless or that we are fit subjects to stand up before others in the Master's name, or to go out and talk to others about their duty to God. Yet we feel that there is that charity of judgment that makes others know that we are not undertaking this work because of our own worthiness or fitness, but because we feel that in trying to hold up the banner of Christ to others that the spirit of the Master will abide more strongly with us. We feel that those we try to serve will render us far more service than it is possible for us to render them.

We further realize that there are a number of communities in the country near Grenada where so many people have moved away and where local conditions make it almost impossible for them to maintain a church organization. We likewise realize that the people of these communities who do not find it convenient to go elsewhere, perhaps a number of miles where there can be had a religious gathering, would like to have some kind of services at least once a month. We stand ready to do our best in an humble way to go to such communities when an opportunity is presented to talk to them about our duty to our God, our families and our neighbors and all the sweeter, higher and better things of life.

This organization shall be named the Grenada Broadcasters. It is understood that each and every member of the Grenada Broadcasters obligates himself to go, when possible, at least once a month as a member of a squad or contingent to conduct services. Perhaps there are times when we shall find it expedient to hold services within the town of Grenada.

There shall be a program committee, four of whom are to be named by the president, being the fifth member ,whose duty it shall be to seek opportunities for service, and to name those from time to time who are to go to different places to conduct services.

The pastors of the white churches of the town shall constitute an advisory board to meet with the Grenada Broadcasters from time to time, and it shall be the duty of this advisory board to make such suggestions and recommendations as it sees fit.

The following pledge shall be subscribed to by each and every member of this organization: We bereby subscribe ourselves as members of the Grenada Broadcasters of Grenada County, and we pledge ourselves to try to be alive at all times to our duty to our God, and to do our best to never let an opportunity pass to bear witness for Jesus.

We promise to be amenable, so far as is possible, to the regulations of the organization, and to work with any contingent, team or squad with which we may be listed. In taking this pledge we realize fully our lack of equipment for the work. We realize that there is not a member of the organization who is a ready speaker; we realize, too, that we are all not endowed alike and that perhaps some of us can talk before an audience better than others and that perhaps some cannot talk at all on their feet, yet all can render some service, and the fact that we are members of a team or squad, adds encouragement to others, and will be a means of grace to all of us. Our presence, whether we take an active part or not, is reassuring and puts us on the witness stand for Christ.

The following program committee was named: O. F. Lawrence, Dr. J. W. Young, W. S. P. Doty, J. B. Perry and the president, C. C. White. An advertising committee consisting of Edgar Underwood and two others was named.

A letter was shown from the Jackson Flying Squadron, that it was ready to accept an invitation to send Mr. Fred Sullens and three other members to Grenada on Sunday, March 4, to hold services in the afternoon and at night. A motion was made and carried that the Jackson workers be invited and, if for any reason they cannot come March 4, to name another day real soon on which they can come. When these Jackson men come, it is arranged to have a union service at one of the churches of the town that night.

A meeting for next Sunday afternoon will be had, but it was decided to wait perhaps thirty days or longer before beginning active work. This step was taken because of the roads and because all the churches of the town have on special campaigns.

HINDS COUNTY MAN DOES PLAIN TALKING

Habit of Cities and Counties Living Beyond Their Means and the Result of Bond Issuing. "Bureaus" and "Bureaus", the Individual To Do Nothing for Himself, the Government To Do Everything.

A citizen of Hinds County had the following communication in Clarion-Ledger of Feb. 18. The correspondent may be a little extreme, but he expresses a view that those who count themselves as behind movements or plans to spend still more money and increase the bonded indebtedness and taxes would do well to take into account:

"Like a prodigal son at the apex of his luxurious living our city must continue to issue bonds without stopping to consider how the already overburdened taxpayer is to provide the funds; just as a favorite daughter may insist on fur coats and automobiles exceeding father's ability to afford.

"We are yearly being urged to issue bonds for more school buildings, finer school buildings, auditorium, armory, street improving, sidewalks, etc. Each time assurance is given that taxes will not be increased, that a reduction even of some mills on every thousand dollars will be made. A misleading statement as all taxpayers know, since property is immediately assessed at a higher value in the face of the fact that owners are required to pay for paving done on their property. If we have failed to realize the giant growing up in our midst, it is worth while to consider him. On the evidence of its statistics the Bureau of Census says three-fourths of all American cities are living beyond their means—that is, spend more than they take in. A private corporation that issued bonds to meet expenses would, on the face of the case, be insolvent. A city should live like a thrifty family, on the pay-as-you-go basis; improve itself out of its income. And it certainly does seem as if we have reached a point where daughter should be content with what she now has and not add more furs and cars to father's already heavy burden. If daughter is not curbed she will soon have us launched upon a program of Roman perfection—giving the people whatever they want, educating them any style, classical, professional, vocational, being midwife to them, sending public nurses ahead of the stork. Looking to their arms and legs through a bureau of safety; to their entertainment through a bureau of festivals, to the feeding of their children through a bureau of nutrition, to the state of their health through public clinics; establishing a bureau of serology and a bureau of serological inspection; a bureau for the education of the anemic, recreation camps, community centers, skating rinks, parent schools, school gardens, a bureau of sign inspection and a research engineer. School feeding is justified on the ground that children to become good citizens must be properly fed. Quite so. All the more if you are really a conscientious city you cannot feel satisfied if all you are of it sure that they get a good lunch. You must furnish them three public meals a day. One American city has done all this, also

LESSON FOR FEBRUARY 25

THE PARABLE OF THE POUNDS

LESSON TEXT—Luke 19:11-27.

GOLDEN TEXT—He that is faithful in that which is least, is faithful also in much.—Luke 16:10.

REFERENCE MATERIAL—Matt. 25:14-30; I Tim. 4:13-15.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Working for Jesus.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Faithful and Unfaithful Workers.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Fidelity That Jesus Expects.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—What Returns Does Christ Require of Us?

The purpose of this parable was to correct the misapprehension of the disciples as to the immediate establishment of the kingdom. They were on the way to Jerusalem and they thought that immediately upon their arrival there Jesus would begin the exercise of His kingdom rule. It is to be noted that Jesus did not correct them for believing in the reality of the kingdom, but for believing that it would immediately appear.

I. The Absent Lord (v. 12).

He pictures His going back to God as a nobleman going to receive a kingdom. This was a common occurrence among them. They knew how some of the Herodian family had thus done—gone to Rome and secured their appointment to rule over Palestine. Jesus ascended on high to receive from God, the Father, a kingdom. Let no one mistake the certainty of His return, though the time be unknown, and the event delayed.

II. The Distribution of the Pounds (v. 12).

These pounds represent Christ's gifts to His servants. When Christ ascended He gave gifts to men (Eph. 4:7, 8, 11, 12). To each servant was given the same amount, showing that to all a certain gift has been given and therefore all will be held responsible for its use. The distribution was made by the sovereign. It was also a purposeful distribution. They were to put their gifts to use during His absence. What the nobleman demanded was faithfulness. The pounds were to be used for the Master, not for the selfish enjoyment of the servant.

III. The Rebellious Citizens (v. 14).

They hated Him and sent messengers after Him, notifying Him of their refusal to be subject to Him. This pictures the unbelief of the Jews after Christ's ascension and their repudiation of His rule. It also pictures the unbelieving world in its hatred and rejection of Christ.

IV. The Accounting (vv. 15-27).

1. Its Certainty. Christ will surely bring everyone to account for the use made of His gifts. He has appointed a day in which He shall judge the world (Acts 17:31).

2. Time Of (v. 15). It will take place when Jesus comes back to earth. At that time He will summon His servants and reckon with them. This will take place when He has received His kingdom. He will receive His kingdom when he asks the Father (Ps. 2:8).

3. Rewards Given for Faithfulness (vv. 16-19). (1) The first report (vv. 16, 17). The pound had gained ten pounds. He did not say, "I have made ten pounds," but "Thy pound hath gained ten pounds." He recognized the Lord's ownership. To this the Lord replied by commendation. He praised him and promoted him. He was made ruler over ten cities. (2) The second report (v. 18). In this case the pound had gained five pounds. He did not get the Lord's commendation for he had not done so well, but he was appointed to a place of rulership over five cities. The reward in each case was proportioned to faithfulness during the Lord's absence. The principle of reward was shown to be that faithfulness in very small things prepares for larger responsibilities.

4. Judgment Upon the Unfaithful (vv. 20-27). (1) His report (vv. 20,21). This report was entirely bad. He had not put the pound to use, but laid it away, throwing the blame upon the Lord. He asserted that the character of the Lord was such as to produce fear. Men are failing today in their service because they have wrong conceptions of Christ. (2) Commendation (vv. 22, 23). The wicked servant is judged out of his own mouth. His excuse increased his guilt. He is called wicked. (3) Stripped of the pound (vv. 24-26). To fail to use one's gifts means to lose them. One of the losses of the next world will be the deprivation of what we have now. (4) Warning (v. 27). Those who reject Christ, refusing to submit to His authority, shall share the same deprivation as those who are unfaithful in His service.

"Quite so," replied the disgruntled proprietor of a little fuel business.

"But he's not a real nobleman?"

"Certainly not. And since I've been dealing with him I've found out that he's not even one of nature's noblemen."

Secret Diplomacy.

Her Chum—However did you make your husband give you that lovely all-season trip?

Mrs. Wyse-Guy—Don't tell a soul. I had mother write and ask when it would be convenient for her and father and my two sisters to come and make us a nice, long visit.

Another Vicious Circle.

"One by one our children leave us," said the mother sadly, as the fourth daughter started on her wedding journey.

"Yes," replied the father, a little more sadly, "and one by one they bring our sons-in-law back to us."

Front.

Some people put all the money in "front."

For instance—

Said his wife: "The parlor furniture is getting very shabby."

Said he: "Have some elaborate coverings made."

Ahead of Fawther.

"Papa, the newly engaged daughter said ardently, "Dick and I are truly two souls with but a single thought."

"Well, child, don't be discouraged," her father replied soothingly. "That's more than your mother and I had when we were married."—Toronto Telegram.

A Disappointment.

"I hear that Mrs. Highbride is much disappointed in her husband.

"Dreadfully. She understood he was a home-loving man, and now he wants to tag along with her everywhere she goes."

SURE THING

"Do you consider thirteen at table unlucky?"

"Yes, with food at present prices."

Of Course Not.

It's really not consistent,
As any one can see.
When a fellow's living in "A Flat"
To snore in loud "High C."

No Masher.

"Yep, I went to hear that lady lecturer."

"Did you follow her?"

"Certainly not. I wouldn't follow a lady I didn't know, and besides I had my wife along."

Temporary Absence.

"What's the meaning of 'au revoir?'"

"It's what young authors say to their manuscripts when they send them out.

Joking the Jilted.

Tom (rejected and dejected)—I can never get her picture off my mind.

Dick—Printed there by her own negative, I suppose.

"JUST WONDERFUL" SAYS MRS. MARBLE

Declares Stella Vitae Relieved Her of a Very Painful Ordeal and Improved Her Health

"Once I used to dread the time when my periods were due, but I have no trouble now and I gladly give Stella Vitae the credit for my wonderful relief at these trying times," said Mrs. H. C. Marble, of Hemphill, Texas.

"Every woman knows what I mean and it is no use to be mealy-mouthed about it. Many are suffering today because of false modesty about their difficulty, but I want to tell them the easiest and quickest way to overcome it is to take Stella Vitae.

"Nobody suffered more than I did from this cause. My head would ache hours at a time, inward pains around my stomach clear through to my back nearly set me wild, there was a hurting up and down my legs and dizzy spells would seize me without warning, I suffered from indigestion and my nerves were worn to a frazzle.

"I know I'd be in that same condition today if it wasn't for Stella Vitae. It set me right and keeps me right and the way it has benefitted me is beyond my powers to express. Oh, my sisters, take the advice of one who has suffered and let nothing hinder you from trying this wonderful Stella Vitae."

Note—Stella Vitae may be obtained from any druggist and is sold upon the positive guarantee that the purchase price will be refunded if it fails to bring relief. Druggists are supplied from the Van Vleet-Mansfield Drug Co., Memphis., Tenn, Distributors.—Adv.

STATE DEPARTMENT PLANS EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM

Ideals Outlined by State Superintendent, W. F. Bond, Include Lengthening of School Term, Enumeration of School Children, New Consolidated Schools and Rehabilitation of Disabled Citizens.

Jackson, Miss., Feb. 19.—By far the largest educational program ever launched by the state department of education is being undertaken during the present year according to the statement made by state superintendent of education W. F. Bond. In addition to a general "pepping up" of the routine work the department has eight definite phases of educational work to accomplish during the present year.

Among the ideals that Superintendent Bond hopes to accomplish during the present year that will mean great strides forward in educational matters are the lengthening of school terms, enumeration of school children, 100 new consolidated schools and rehabilitation of disabled citizens.

The plans of the department as outlined by Mr. Bond are printed below,

Enumeration.

Since 62½ per cent of the public schools appropriation is disbursed on an educable per capita basis, it is very evident that great injustice will be done unless an exact enumeration of the educable children in every county and separate school district can be had. In the past a great many county and separate school districts, for some reason or other, did not have a complete enumeration, and thereby suffered loss of funds from the state every year. On the other hand, the number of educable children sent in from a few counties and districts were altogether out of proportion to the entire population, and must have been guessed at. These counties and districts therefore drew annually more than their share of the state funds for schools. Heretofore the enumeration has always been made by the county assessor. He was not paid enough for this work to assure the proper interest in every case. At the beginning of this year, under the new law, the enumeration is to be made by the teachers and public school trustees, under the direction of the county superintendents of education of the various counties, and it is to be hoped that these officials will give us for once an exact enumeration of our educable population.

Course of Study.

Mississippi has never had a real course of study for the lower grades and hundreds of ur teachers have from year to year bought such courses, gotten out by other states, the Baltimore Course of Study, put out by the educational authorities of the state of Maryland, being the one most used. For several months a large committee of our most expert teachers under the direction of our rural school supervisor, Mr. J. T. Calhoun, has been hard at work on a course of study for Mississippi schools. This course, which is now ready for the printer, will be in book form, and contain four hundred pages of matter dealing with the best methods of teaching every subject that should be given in every grade, from the first to the eighth inclusive. Every teacher in the state whether she be in the one teacher school in a very backward community or in a progressive city or town school, by using this book, will know what is best to do for the pupils of every grade, so far as the course of study is concerned.

Seven Months Terms

A few years ago, the average rural school term in Mississippi was four months, and a little later five months. The Equalizing School Fund not only gives better pay to teachers, but it increased the average rural school term one month in the state. So at the present time the rural children are getting on the average the advantage of six months school every year. In some of the counties, all of the schools are running nine months. Every child, no matter where he lives, should have not less than seven months school term every year. Therefore, one of the aims of the Department of Education during the present calendar year is to push the average rural school term from six to seven months annually.

Codification of Laws

Every teacher, trustee, and lawyer who has tried to interpret the present school law, knows that it is not much more than a mass of junk, because of its inconsistencies, duplications, indefiniteness, illogical arrangement, and patchwork of amendments. All the school laws should be written in simple, definite logical manner, so that the trustees of the rural schools, as well as lawyers will understand it when they read it. During the last session of the legislature, the school code passed the Senate with only three dissenting votes, and would have passed the House had there been time for its consideration. The school laws rewritten and simplified will be presented to the next legislature on the first day of its session, and will likely be passed without very much discussion. The code will contain no radical changes in the present law and very little new matter. Such legislation will come under separate bills later in the session.

New Consolidated Schools.

Mississippi with 770 consolidated schools today leads the other 47 states of the Union. During the year 1922, 104 of these strong central schools were established, and it goes without saying that at least one hundred more will be built during the present year. The people in those counties and sections where little educational progress has been made are clamoring for a better chance for their children in the way of better teachers, better school houses, and more grades. They are now realizing that a real good school, with not less than ten grades, is the greatest thing that can come into the life of any community, for it gives all the children high school advantages, and stabilizes more than anything else the rural church.

Rehabilitation Work.

Two years ago through the aid of the county superintendents, and other interested parties, enough money was gotten together to qualify for government aid in the rehabilitation of crippled children over fourteen years of age. The Legislature in 1922 made a small appropriation for this work which has helped us to reach hundreds of people. Under the supervision of Mr. Sam Woods and Mrs. Mary Baker, the blind have been made to see, the halt to have renewed strength, and the lame to literally rise up and walk. It is passing strange that for lo these many years nothing had ever been done for our cripples. Not long ago with the splendid aid of the Shriners of Jackson, 104 crippled children under 14 years of age were assembled here at Jackson for examination preparatory for operations and treatments, where such will be beneficial, and afterwards training that will enable them to make their way in the world. Until recently, our cripples were left to fight their own battles single handed and alone, but such is not to be the case from now on. During the year 1923, the State Department of Education wants to do the brotherly thing for that number of our disabled persons in the state in need of help and training of any kind.

Use of Appropriations

In the past there has been too much waste along all lines in Mississippi. Millions have been wasted on roads, dredging canals, and in other ways. There has also been too much waste of school funds by the employment of incompetent teachers, neglect of the school buildings and furniture, neighborhood squabbles and quarrels, incompetent county superintendents, and so on and so on. It is criminal to waste a single dollar of public funds, for the people are being heavily taxed to run the affairs of the government, and should therefore receive a dollar's worth of good for every dollar spent. During the year 1923, the State Department of Education is going to do its very best to make every dollar spent on the schools be of the greatest possible benefit to the children.

Religion in Schools.

The end of education is the producing of a good citizen. A good citizen is one well trained for his life work, loves his neighbors, and fears God, and tries to keep his commandments. Therefore, in order that our schools may produce good citizens, the fundamentals of good citizenship must be taught and practiced therein. From the one teacher school on up through our colleges, the Department of Education, therefore, during the year will make an extra effort to put into every school and college more of the old time religion.

In addition to the foregoing, the general work of the department will be carried on, such as the standardization of the work of all the schools, the training of teachers, the getting out of plans for school houses, the organization of forces all along the line for better schools, to the end that everychild in the state, no matter how poor it may be, how far back in the country it may live, or how much it may have been neglected in the past, will have a chance.

Telephone Records are Public Records

WHILE every detail of the Telephone Company's operations, which include revenue, expense, earnings and plans for the future are a matter of public record, we realize that many of our telephone users haven't the time or opportunity to examine these available records to learn the many things they wish to know and ought to know about the telephone business.

So we are bringing our books, records and plans to you in this form that you may know the telephone business as we feel you want to know it and you should know it in order to be fully informed of the progress of your state and of this entire section.

During the year just past the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph Company, operating in the four states of Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi and Tennessee, completed more construction work and installed more new telephones than ever before in its history.

To care for last year's growth Cumberland telephone workers in these States installed 53,465 telephones and discontinued 34,860. To meet this growth we installed additional central office equipment and outside plant costing $4,445,934.20, practically all of which was new money secured from investors who have faith in the future of the telephone industry in the South.

During 1922 the company's gross operating revenue was $16,337,255, its operating expenses amounted to $14,474,814, and its net revenue was $1,862,441.

This was a net return of 3.794 per cent on the total average investment during the year.

The importance, extent and value of the telephone service is indicated by the fact that there were approximately 793,597,000 local calls and 9,900,000 long distance calls during 1922.

The company now has 278,050 owned stations in the states referred to. It connects with approximately 84,771 stations of other companies and 20,721 telephones on farm homes.

There are more than 6,700 Cumberland telephone employes and the company's annual pay roll is more than $6,700,000.

The company owns 505 central offices, 857,268 miles of wire, 21,715 miles of pole line and 809 miles of underground duct included in its local and toll plant.

This extensive property represents an investment of more than $50,308,091.

This approximate fifty and a quarter million dollars was our investment in Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi and Tennessee at the beginning of 1923, but the next five years of growth and development in this territory will be such as to cause this already large investment to grow rapidly year by year.

The year 1923 will be a year of expansion for the telephone industry, and if there are no unforeseen delays the unfilled demand for service should be practically eliminated.

In 1923 we must spend $5,741,400 for additions and extensions to the telephone system (exclusive of operating expenses). Approximately 52,777 new telephones will be installed and 34,854 removed, making a net gain of 17,923 telephones.

Plans for the 1923 work have already been made and the necessary capital arranged for, and if the manufacturers, as we expect, make deliveries of material as ordered, the work will progress according to schedule.

Our engineers estimate that during the next five years 279,409 new telephones will be installed by the company as a whole and 186,220 will be discontinued, leaving a net gain of 93,189 telephones during the period.

To accomplish this will require gross addditions to the plant, costing $29,959,700.

To you as a telephone user this rapid growth and expansion of the Telephone System is of paramount importance, for the value to you of your telephone increases as the Telephon System as a whole expands.

In another advertisement, we shall tell you our last year's accomplishments and the company's plans for this State in 1923 and for the next five years.

This state's part in this telephone development is large and of importance to every individual and to the state at large. You will want to know about it.

There is one editor in heaven. How he got there is not positively known, but it is conjectured that he passed himself off for William Jennings Bryan. MISSISSIPPI AND IOWA

The average Iowa farmer cultivates 102 acres in crops while the average Mississippi farmer only twenty-five acres. The Iowa farmer is able to handle this large acreage because he has over $1,400 worth of farm machinery and implements per farm as compared to less than $200 worth on the Mississippi farm. The labor incomes of the farmers of the two sections are pretty much in the same proportion.—Progressive Farmer.

WHAT WE OWE OUR PARENTS

What do we owe our parents? No man can owe love; none can owe obedience. We owe, I think, chiefly pity; for we are the pledge of their dear and joyful union, we have been the solicitude of their days and the anxiety of their nights, we have made them, thoug by no will of ours, to carry the burden of our sins, sorrows, and physical infirmities; and too many of us grow up at length to disappoint the purpose of their lives and requite their care and piety with cruel pangs.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

POLITICAL HUMOR

Th' Democrats are lookin' fer a leader for 1924, an' th' R'publicans are lookin' fer one t' begin right away.—Abe Martin.

You know there is going to be an awful scandal over this last election. The Republicans claim the Democrats didn't notify them they were having one. One Republican in New York City found it out and voted for Miller. And now the Democrats are trying to find out how he knew it. It seems there was a leak somewhere.—Will Rogers.

TROUBLE IN COLLEGES

There never was a time when the colleges of the country were as much under fire as they are today. Yesterday it was the tendency of the teachers to tear down the religious standards so dear to all true believers; today it is the student body who seem to be a sore trial to the heads of the great colleges; tomorrow no one knows what it will be.

In one day we read that the president of the University of Kentucky assembles his student body and asks them to surrender their firearms; and the president of the University of California calls two classes together and denounces them as snobs and parasites, "who prefer a deck of cards and a stack of poker chips to a pad of paper and a stack of books."

Says the California president: "Out of 10,000 undergraduates in the University of California, 7,000 of them should be attached to pick handles or frying pans."

A Kentucky colonel is no gent unless he carries his liquor well and his side arms in easy reach. It is sad but true that often the liquor makes the colonel reach for his side arms, and that tragedy has been the result, but not until today has any man in that grand and glorious commonwealth ever dared to tell them to their face that they must surrender their weapons. O tempora, O mores!

In California the situation is alarming. We can imagine a man getting an education at the same time he learns how to use a six shooter; but we never heard of 7,000 poker players in one gang. If it had been craps these young Californians were wedded to we could understand the rage.

President Garfield said that his idea of the perfect university was a student on one end of a log and Mark Hopkins on the other. This epigram carries its own moral. It is with education as with other things in life; that which is hardest to get is most appreciated and benefits one most. There is a place for the state colleges and for the great universities; but we think it will be hardly disputed that the greatest contributions to American life and civilization are being made by the small colleges, particularly the sectarian schools, where there is an intimate, personal contact between teacher and pupil, and where emphasis is laid upon moral instruction as well as upon book learning. You don't hear of the students in these institutions being denounced for gambling and pistol toting—New Orleans States.

A BRAINLESS WONDER

We have often heard of the hairless wonder but we dare say that no state outside of Mississippi ever had to bear the humiliation of having a brainless wonder in the Governor's office. Such is Mississippi's plight today.

Russell's letter, which we publish on another page of this issue, urging some of those heretofore regarded as being "willing to take the dose regardless of what it contained", to vote for Franklin for Governor, is only another proof that an advertisement, "Room to let in Russell's head" would be highly proper.

The reasons he assigns for opposing Prof: Whitfield, Conner and Bell might be called puerile if they were not so downright simple. The idea of any insurance trust fighting Russell. Why should they fight him? He's never done anything to them.

And Brewer, aiding and abetting "the insurance trust  to destroy" him "in the infamous Birkhead case"! Oh, visions of Earl Brewer do haunt Lee. He knows Brewer knows him. Brewer has been too busy with large things to lose any time with wiggle-tails or the fly on the car wheel.

Now we imagine that Stokes Robertson would much prefer that Lee keep his mouth closed about the suit against the fire insurance companies. The very fact that Russell has persisted in butting in on Stokes Robertson's business has been about the only thing that gave the suit a bad coloring. Robertson, we dare say, would have brought the suit regardless of who might have been Governor.

Nevertheless Russell is trying to ride Robertson's coat tail. Lee is an experienced coat tail rider. In the last election he rode both Bilbo's and Vardaman's. The voters of Mississippi not only cut off Vardaman's coat tail last summer, but the caboose of his shirt also. And whatever has been left of the tail of Bilbo's shredded and worn coat, he has snatched from Russell's grasp, and now Miss Birkhead's chanticleer is quawking for a roosting place. We imagine that Stokes Robertson would like to say, "For heaven's sake, Governor, keep your mouth shut."

The fact that he happens to be installed in the executive mansion is the only reason that makes it necessary to sometimes comment on his tergivisations of tongue and step. His activities often call to mind the little black insect which takes more delight in pushing backwards than it does in going forward.

ABOLISH OFFICE OF SUPREME COURT REPORTER

In making a sort of survey of the field to see where reduction can be made and useless offices abolished, among the first things that come to our mind is that of the office of Supreme Court reporter.

We would not be understood as holding that the reports should not be published. It is important that they should be. The duties of the office are now being discharged by one of the most distinguished and one of the ablest lawyers of the State, Judge Robert Powell. Judge Powell is one of the State's most brilliant men. He illuminates any subject he discusses and there is hardly a man in the State that has more loyal friends than he, and there is none that has shown himself to be more worthy of loyal friends than Judge Powell. We have the honor of claiming him as our good friend.

But personalities all aside. We are looking at this matter from the interest of the taxpayers. So far as we know Judge Powell's tenure is indefinite. But there is no need of having two men, or two sets of men do the same work.

The Legislature, at its 1920 session, knocked down many barriers and ran roughshod over many precedents. It passed a law increasing the salary of the Judges of the Supreme Court $2000 each under this sort of subterfuge. We say "subterfuge" for the reason that section 166 of the Constitution of Mississippi says that the salaries of the judges "shall not be increased or diminished during their continuance in office". The 1920 law blindfolding around this constitutional mandate increasing the Supreme Court Judges salaries reads:

"Salary of each judge of the supreme court, sa such, shall be forty five hundred dollars ($4500) per annum.

"In addition to their duties as judges, the several judges constituting the supreme court are hereby created a commission to determine and select which opinions of said court are to be officially reported, to prepare or supervise the making of head notes or syllabi to said opinions and to annually prepare for publication a digest of all of the decisions of the supreme court construing any section of the constitution and statutes of this state, and shall each receive as compensation for said duties two thousand dollars ($2000) per annum."

Now it is evident to any mind that the so-called extra work placed on the supreme judges is practically the work that the law imposes on the Supreme Court Reporter, and we see no need of an overlapping of work of or having two men to do one man's job.

A few years ago when there were heroic efforts being made to add three more supreme court judges because the then three judges "could not do the work", the suggestion of adding additional duties would have been worse than shocking.

An arrangement might be made with the Southern Reporter to get out the reports at a trifling cost and thereby largely save the salary of the reporter and the reporter's secretary.

The time has arrived to put the knife deep. Let's not have operations that just get under the skin. Plain speaking and direct acting is demanded. Let's begin to put down in black and white what ought to be cut out and where and how much appropriations ought to be cut down.

There are other things, quite numerous ones, where offices can be eliminated and appropriations cut down without in the least doing injustice to the public service. We shall deal with these from time to time. The candidate who is unwilling or afraid to "spit it out", state his position without any equivocation, should be left at home.

FORMER GRENADIAN DIES IN ST. LOUIS

Mrs. C. F. Morgan, formerly Miss Rosa Berry, died in St. Louis Feb. 14, and her remains were buried there two days later. She had been operated on only a few days before her death.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Morgan is survived by one sister, Mrs. Robert Cochran of Jackson, Miss., and also one brother, Edgar Berry, of the same place and another brother, Henry Berry, of Jackson Tenn.

Mrs. Morgan will be remembered as the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Berry. Her father died during the yellow fever epidemic of 1878, and the mother was left with six children. The mother lead a life of sacrifice and kept her children together, and the beauty of the devotion and thoughtfulness of Mrs. Morgan was almost sublime. The life of the mother shone forth most radiantly in the daughter.

For these many years since her mother died, Mrs. Morgan has not failed to send a lovely floral tribute to be laid upon her mother's grave on each anniversary of her death.

May those who survive gather up the golden threads in the life of Mrs. Morgan which can but serve to teach one and all something of heavenly sacrifice and love. To the bereft The Sentinel tenders sympathy.

GRENADA LADY IN COMMERCIAL APPEAL CONTEST

My announcement of my intention two weeks ago in The Sentinel to enter the Commercial Appeal Contest brought me in a number of letters from distant points and some votes, and also brought me the proffer of much aid in Grenada. I am greatly pleased at this and wish to express sincere appreciation to everybody. I want to tell my friends that I am greatly encouraged and that I am getting thousands of votes, but my success depends largely upon Grenada. Therefore I hope my friends will continue to think of me every time they think of subscribing to the Commercial Appeal. As before said, I shall not worry anybody, still I feel that I owe those who have so kindly interested themselves in me the duty of personally interviewing as many as possible about the contest. If I do not, somebody else will, and I am sure Grenada people are always interested in home people first.

Very gratefully,
Mrs. Edgar Underwood.

BOLAND-GAMMON

On Sunday afternoon at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. H. S. Boland and Miss Lula Gammon were united in marriage, Rev. W. E. Farr of the First Baptist church saying the ceremony. Mr. Boland is a trusted employe of the I. C. rail road and his bride is a gracious and attractive young woman. The Sentinel extends congratulations and best wishes.

KIRK RESIGNS AS MANAGER OF SERUM PLANT

Owing to the press of his personal affairs, Mr. W. H. Kirk has tendered his resignation as manager of the Cotton States Serum Plant in Grenada to take effect March 1. The plant has done excellently well since Mr. Kirk took charge of it and it is to be regretted that he cannot find the time from his own affairs to continue his connection. Mr. W. B. Hoffa, the owner, regrets Mr. Kirk's retirement and feels that he knows that he will have much trouble in securing a man that will do even approximately as well as Mr. Kirk. Mr. Kirk is a live wire at anything and is a useful citizen and a good man.

DENTAL INSPECTION IN THE CITY SCHOOLS

A dental inspection of the Grenada School was made this week by the local dentists under the direction of the Mouth Hygiene Supervisor for Mississippi. 532 children were examined, 436 needed dental attention. This was 82%. The teachers are alive to the need of dental care of these children and are going to work systematically to get corrections made. Parents have been notified of the defects and it is hoped that they will cooperate in getting the work done. The school that teaches the habit of good teeth to its pupils is contributing by that an important factor to their future success.

Since the dental examination children have been very much interested in having their teeth put in proper condition. In every room in the school there hangs a health chart with the names of the pupils thereon and every child whose teeth are approved by the dentist receives a gold star opposite his name. A reward has been promised by Superintendent Rundle to the room that first reaches one hundred per cent in Mouth Hygiene. This is a very effective and valuable undertaking in the Public School. XXX.

DODGE BROTHERS
BUSINESS SEDAN

Dodge Brothers, with equal aptness, could have named it the Family Sedan.

In the first place, it is big and roomy—a five-passenger car that will really seat five adults in comfort. There is no space wasted on superfluous adornments. Every inch of body and chassis is put to actual use.

There are no delicate cloth furnishings to be soiled by the children. The seats are upholstered in durable and attractive blue Spanish leather.

There is no sensitive varnish to be easily scratched or finger-spotted. The body is steel-built—a new principle in Sedan design—making it possible to finish the exterior in Dodge Brothers oven-baked enamel, the most durable finish known.

The rear seat furnishings come out—instantly converting the rear section into a spacious carrying compartment—handy for carrying trunks, boxes and household luggage of all sorts.

Children can romp and play to their hearts' content in this car, and when cleaning time comes, you can turn the hose on it—inside and out.

The price is $1330 delivered

It appearing that Will Montgomery was assessed for the year 1922 with one road tax and that he is more than 50 years of age and not liable for road tax, it is ordered that he be relieved of said erroneous tax, and the clerk certify copy of this order to the Tax Collector.

Ordered that the report of Miss Kate Lee, Home Economics Agent, for the month of January be and the same is hereby approved.

It appearing that Dr. F. B. Coats was assessed for the year 1921-22 with the NW¼ NW¼ of section 8, township 23, range 4 east, to the value of $310.00 and it further appearing that he does not own land and A. S. Wolfe is the real owner of said land and also paid tax for the year 1921-22 on said land, it is hereby ordered that said F. B. Coats be refunded $8.99, county's part of said erroneous tax.

Ordered that the report of M. McKibben, Co. Supt., for the month of January be hereby approved.

It appearing that Mrs. C. C. Provine was assessed for the year 1922, with one automobile to the amount of $500.00, and that said amount is unreasonable and unjust, the real valuation is $400.00, it is hereby ordered that said assessment of $500 be reduced to $400.00 and the clerk is hereby authorized and instructed to certify copy of this order to the Sheriff, or Tax Collector.

This day coming on the matter of letting contract for preparing a complete sectional index to the lands in Grenada county, and it appearing to the board that due and legal advertisement for said work has been made according to law, and said matter coming on at this term as per said advertisement, therupon the clerk of the board called for bids for making said sectional index, in open session of the board, and upon competitive bids, B. D. Newsom became the lowest bidder for said work, at and for the sum of $6500, said section index to be completed within thirty months from this date and it further appearing to the board that said bidder is ready to enter into contract and make bond for the faithful and speedy performance of said work, it is therefore ordered that said contract be and the same is hereby awarded to said B. D. Newsom, at and for his bid upon his entering into contract and executing bond with some good and solvent surety company, doing business in the state of Mississippi, in the sum of $1000.000, conditioned for the speedy and faithful performance of said work. Said contract to provide for the making of full, complete and perfect sectional index to all land conveyances and other instruments touching or concerning the titles to land in Grenada county. Said sectional index to show the descriptions of land by government subdivision, or municipal surveys, or by short reference to descriptions by metes and bounds or indefinite descriptions and the book and page where recorded and the names of the grantor and grantee, date of the instruments, kind of instrument, and date of filing for record, and said index to be completed within 30 months from this date, and to be paid for, upon completion, approval and acceptance by the board. G. P. Cunningham voting "no".

It appearing that due advertisement has been made for the construction of steel bridge across Cotton Creek in district two, and that when all bids were opened that F. E. Gillon was the lowest and best bidder at and for $1.50 per lineal foot for the construction of steel work and $5.00 per yard for concrete work, it is therefore ordered that contract be awarded to F. E. Gillon upon the execution by him of good and valid bond in the sum of $600.00 for the faithful performance of said contract.

It appearing that H. C. Morris was assessed for the year 1922, with one automobile to the amount of $375.00 and that the real value of said automobile is $150.00, it is therefore ordered by the board, H. C. Morris having paid said erroneous assessment, that he be refunded $6.19 county's part of said erroneous payment, and clerk issue warran to the amount of $6.19 to refund said erroneous tax.

I have inspected roads under contract and find same in as good condition as could be expected under the weather conditions, and recommend pay for same, also, as to the roads not under contract, I feel the only thing is to keep the culverts and bad places fixed until after the winter rains are over, and then put same in good condition. I also recommend that the contractors go over roads and where the water is cutting in to the sides of said roads and place brush so as to stop further washing.

G. D. Thomerson,
Road Commissioner.

Ordered that report of Dr. R. A. Clanton, county health officer, for the month of January be hereby approved.

Ordered that report of E. H. White, County Demonstration Agent, for the month of January be approved.

Tuesday morning, February 6th, 1923, the Board met pursuant to adjournment. Members and officers present same as yesterday.

Ordered that the report of D. W. Dogan, sheriff, for the month of January be and the same is hereby approved.

Do not hesitate because it costs so little, in truth, many insurance policies cost too much. We are only enabled to make this extra ordinary offer because of some special arrangements we have made.

Some of the largest daily newspapers in the United States, more than 200 of them in all, are offering this same insurance policy contract to their readers. Among the newspapers it might be mentioned that President Harding's paper, the Marion Star, at Marion, Ohio; The Washington City Herald; The Times Journal and scores upon scores of other newspapers.

Knowing that there is nothing too good for Sentinel readers, we made an investigation and got the privilege of selling these polices to our readers.

No such opportunity was ever before offered as this Reader Insurance Policy. It is a bonafide travel andaccident policy put out by an Old Line Insurance Company.

While doing a real,a genuine, service for our readers, we make it easier for one to pay his or her subscription.

The cost is just a little over 1-4 of one cent a day--just think of it. Who would not be willing to double this small amount tomorrow morning as a guarantee against accidents?

DON'T DELAY. TIME IS TOO PRECIOUS. ACCIDENTS ARE TOO FREQUENT. THINK ABOUT WHAT SECURITY A $1000 ACCIDENT INSURANCE POLICY WILL MAKE YOU FEEL.

The policy is issued to both men and women between the ages of 16 and 70 for white and colored people. No red tape. No medical examination required.

The newspapers are full of stories of automobile and other accidents every day. You may be the next.

The Sentinel believed that it would be doing something worth while if it could find a way to protect its readers against such misfortunes at a small cost.

"Primarily the responsibility for the expenditure rests with the legislature and not with the supervisors, and whatever may be thought about the inadvisability of having the work done at all, the average man would no doubt have acted, under the circumstances just as the supervisors did. The last legislature was wild on spending money. Many of the so-called leaders thought they were building monuments in making the appropriations and in providing for new things. They certainly taught the people of the State a severe lesson and while doing so, dug some political graves."

What Mr. Yeager states about the farmers and landowners going to the court house and indulging in the pastime of tracing back their land titles is evidently a picture he has built in his own mind as a result of a visit to dreamland. Some sage said in the centuries ago that all the faculties of the mind are in full operation in dreams except reason and judgment and that these are wholly dormant.

It is the rarest thing that any farmer ever gives any attention to the chain of title to his land unless he is seeking to either sell it or borrow money on it. Grenada County landowners are certainly up to the average in intelligence, but they are not going to risk their judgment on inspecting the records on any land title when there is a matter of any moment involved. When a farmer wants to borrow on his land, the lender will insist on a properly certified abstract to be prepared either by a lawyer or an abstracting company.

It is a matter of common knowledge that the business of the country is so arranged that a bank or any other business concern requires the certificate of either a lawyer or an abstracting company to a land title before it will advance any funds on the land.

We do not quite understand what Mr. Yeager means by his terms "75 cents per page" and "50 cents per page". He must mean either a page of the official record or a page of the paper upon which he writes the abstract—we assume that he means the latter.

It is the custom, as we understand, for attorneys to charge for an abstract in proportion to the amount or value of the transaction involved. We take it that they will continue to do this regardless of what it has cost the taxpayers for a Sectional Index (?)

We respectfully submit that Mr. Yeager lays himself open to the charge of having a selfish or personal interest in getting this law through the legislature when he states that he "has been engaged in abstracting work  for 14 years". His job is easier now since the passage of the law and we are wondering if he is charging his clients any less (?).

We would not have Mr. Yeager think that we have any fight on the lawyers. When it is considered what is committed to them in the way of business or the delicate affairs wrapped up in the life of an individual, it must be admitted that they are excelled by no other class or profession. They rank with the highest in fidelity and in all the better things of life. But our observations about this law were made in the interests of the general public and without regard to any favored few.

Mr. Yeager's claim to being chairman of "the tight wad committee" of the lower house explodes with its own gas when he pleads guilty to being the father of the law under discussion, a law, based on the contract made in this County, that will cost, or has already cost, the taxpayers of Mississippi over $500,000. Grenada County is a small County. It was not formed until 1870, hence it is fair to assume that a sectional index in the larger and older counties would cost somewhere near $10,000. There are 82 counties in the State.

For Mr. Yeager's information we will state the The Sentinel was one of the few newspapers in the State that insisted that the legislature was running wild on appropriations. We said howling day was coming but it has arrived a little earlier even than we expected. If Mr. Yeager was battling, as he says, against the extravagance of the law-making body, it is indeed unfortunate that his efforts were not more potential.

RUSSELL'S FRANKLIN LETTER CAPTURED

who tried to destroy me in the infamous Birkhead case.

"Percy Bell fought Bilbo and myself and joined with the trusts and gangsters to destroy me in the last legislature. When Senator Vardaman called on him to speak last summer, he flatly refused to aid him.

"The insurance trusts will take either Whitfield or Conner. Both of these are their candidates. If Franklin does not win in the first primary, he will surely do so in the second.

"I believe you are interested in good government and I am writing to you to urge you to support Senator Franklin and thus keep our great state out of the hands of the trusts and combines that set of law-breakers who refused to obey the law and who are required to pay a large sum after the suits were brought by Honorable Stokes Robertson. These gangsters will put up any amount of money to elect Whitfield or Conner. They would even take Percy Bell, whose sympathy is with them, if they had the chance they want to destroy the revenue agent's office, elect a governor and legislature. It is up to the fair-minded people and liberty-loving citizens to protect the people from this calamity.

"I will thank you to let me hear from you and I trust you will join with us in this, the greatest crisis in the state's history.

"Assuring you of my best wishes and kindest regards, I am,

"Your friend,

"LEE M. RUSSELL,

"Governor."

HINDS COUNTY MAN DOES PLAIN TALKING

has an intermediate school that cost more than a million, with its twenty-six class rooms, two music rooms, two art rooms, a model flat, three sewing rooms, three cooking rooms, two gymnasiums, two corrective gymnasiums, two play courts, two swimming pools, one hour each day is spent in the gymnasium and bath and a special wonder of the girls' bath is an electric hair drier with a capacity of one hundred heads per hour! Also the same city has spent $100,000,000 borrowed capital in SIX years and its tax levy has increased FOURFOLD. Twice before in the history of this country states and cities were seized with the mania to borrow money, consequently in our financial annals are two very distressing chapters under REPUDIATION."

James will restock his hog plantation.

Fernwood a Cattle Ranch.

The swine were removed from Pine Crest farm recently to Borden's plantation at Fernwood, Miss., where they are now awaiting transportation to Grenada. Fernwood farm, containing 6,500 acres, will be completely denuded of hogs because Mr. Borden desires to make an exclusive cattle ranch of it.

In addition to these two Pine Crest boars of international reputation Glenwild plantation acquired in this purchase the fine sow herd on Pine Crest's range, which contains many outstanding sows of the breed. The deal is said to be one of the most important livestock transactions in the south this winter.

With the 150 head from Col. James' farms added to his herds, Mr. Borden, who already has some 1,200 head of purebred Durocs, will be the owner of the largest herd of this breed in the south.

The two noted boars in the herd are the greatest living boars of the celebrated Orion Cherry King family. This cycle of Durocs has furnished five world's champions, a record not approached by any other family of the breed. A full sister to the great boar Scissors was twice champion of the world and international grand champion at the International Live Stock Show in Chicago. This record probably will stand for years, breeders believe.

The hog business is not a mere fad with the Chicago capitalist, as he has built up a large business in his Glenwild farm products.

This purchase will make Glenwild one of the largest swine breeding farms in all the South, indeed one of the largest in the whole country.

NO REST--NO PEACE

There's no peace and little rest for the one who suffers from a bad back, and distressing urinary disorders. Grenada people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Ask your neighbor! be guided by their experience.

Mrs. W. A. Thompson, 632 Kershaw St., Grenada, says: "My kidneys were in a terrible condition. They acted too often and caused annoyance. My back hurt all the time and I couldn't rest at night. The doctor told me my kidneys were disordered. As I had a box of Doan's Kidney Pills I thought I would try them. They did just as represented in my case and two boxes cured me. I recommend Doan's willingly."

Mrs. Thompson gave the above statement June 13,1918 and on April 12, 1922, she said: "I know there is no medicine like Doan's Kidney Pills for anyone troubled with weak kidneys. Several years ago my kidneys bothered me but Doan's cured me of the trouble."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remend—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Thompson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

DISCUSSES RAILWAY MAIL TRANSPORTATION COSTS

Summary of Speech Delivered by 2d Assistant Postmaster General Paul Henderson Before the Conference-Convention of Postal Employees of the State of Mississippi at Vicksburg.

The cost of transportation to the Postoffice Department consisting of Railway Mail, Foreign Mail, Power Boat service, Air Mail, and Alaskan inland routes, is staggering in its proportions, approximating as it does one-half a million dollars for each business day of the year.

From a speed point of view, the one-mile-an-hour dog team on the mountain passes of Alaska represents one extreme—the one-hundred miles per hour airplane of Trans-continental Air Mail route represents the other extreme.

The railway Mail Service is by far the largest unit of our mail transport system. It is nation-wide in its extent and it is continuous in its operation. It piles up a bill of over $94,000,000 each year with the railroads, and its 20,000 clerks are paid over half that sum in salaries. It has rent rolls and miscellaneous expenses totaling another $1,000,000. Its management is confronted with an ever-changing panorama of important details. Train schedules are frequently modified and altered—the volume of mail to be moved changes with the seasons and with varying business conditions. New schemes of distribution are necessary to meet new train schedules. More or less rolling stock is needed to meet an increasing or decreasing flow of mail. Incidents such as the rail strike of the past summer tax the skill and industry of our men to the limit. Late trains frequently throw carefully prepared schedules and schemes temporarily into the waste basket, and call for the most of energy and resourcefulness. The lack of serious delay to mail during more than sixty days of crippled rail service last summer, is to my mind a remarkable tribute to the 20,000 men of the Railway Mail Service. I am proud of their record.

Any transportation system which is concerned with the movement of important freight, express or mail matter must be so designed and so administered as to take advantage of every possible close connection, increased train speed, etc. In the case of the Railway Mail Service, every effort is made to keep mail in a continuous movement toward its ultimate destination. Every advantage must be taken of the so-called dead time. By dead time, I mean the interval between connections at junction points and terminals. An intensive and, I am sure, profitable use of this dead time is now being taken advantage of by the Post Office Department in its 59 railway mail terminals.

Translated into dollars per year, the average postal car costs the Department in excess of $300 per square foot, and this only for an average of 8 to 15 hours per day. Space in railway mail terminals costs the Department less than 1 per cent of this sum, conclusively proving the economy of intensive terminal working of mail where train schedules will permit.

STATE ADJUTANT AMERICAN LEGION VISITS GRENADA

Mr. John B. Hudson, State Adjutant of the American Legion was in Grenada Friday afternoon of last week. Mr. Hudson is touring the State in the interest of the American Legion and while in Grenada he made a very favorable impression upon many of the Legionnaires and other citizens who had the pleasure of meeting him while here.

Mr. Hudson says that Grenada is indeed fortunate to have the National Commander of the American Legion, Mr. Alvin M. Owlsey, as its guest on April 5th. On the occasion of Mr. Owlsey's visit to Grenada arrangement will be made for him to address the citizens of this county. He brings a message of vital interest and he is the possessor of a forceful personality and is a polished orator. Mr. Owlsey is making a tour of the United States in the interest of the American Legion and it has been many a day since Grenada has had the opportunity to hear an international figure, such as Mr. Owlsey occupies as commander of nearly a million ex-service men, address the citizens of this community. In his speeches in the North and East Mr. Owlsey has clearly voiced the sentiments of the vast army of civilians who a short time ago marched away to fight for America in the great world war, and Grenada looks forward with much interest to his coming. Mr. Owlsey comes to Grenada on April 5th, under the auspices of Jim Trimble Post No. 35, and announcements will later be made as to the details of the day's program. The State Commander and other national and state officials of the American Legion will also be in Grenada on the occasion of Mr. Owlsey's visit.

SENATOR STEPHENS HERE

Senator-elect, Hubert D. Stephens stopped over in Grenada on Tuesday afternoon on his return to his home at New Albany from Jackson and while here he honored The Sentinel office with a call. The Senator-elect was looking fine and was in splendid spirits. He stated that he would leave for Washington City within a few days to look in on the expiring Senate and to be ready, should the President call the Senate together, to enter upon his duties as the successor of John Sharp Williams.

There was that usual candor and frankness about the Senator that he always shows in talking to his friends. He talked freely about many public questions and incidentally some men.

Mississippians become more and more impressed with the fact that they have chosen wisely in electing Senator Stephens. He is a man of sound judgment and of splendid poise and will give to the great questions pressing themselves on the country that analysis and decision which comes of keeping close to nature and in touch with the heart throbs of the just plain, everyday people. More of rural thought and of rural judgment and action and less of city rush and maneuver and sometimes intrigue is what the country needs today, and Mr. Stephens will come very nearly supplying this. He will make a fine match for Pat Harrison and The Sentinel feels that it can guarantee that if Pat Harrison and Hubert Stephens do not put a proposition across that it can not be put across.

The Sentinel feels that it should say once again Hurrah for Mississippi in electing Hubert Stephens.

Free Flower Seeds

You will be glad to know that Hastings', "The South's Seedsman," will give away about 2,000,000 packets of seed of the South's most popular flowers this spring.

There is nothing in the home that can compare with rich colored flowers. They brighten us all up and make any house attractive. You can't plant too many flowers and this opportunity to get Shirley Poppies, Everlasting Flowers, Zinnias, Cosmos and Mexican Burning Bush absolutely free, is certainly to be welcomed by all readers of this paper.

You can get them! Just write to Hastings' for the new 1923 Catalog. It tells you how to get flower seeds free. It has 100 pages of beautiful photographic pictures and correct descriptions of garden flower and field seeds, bulbs and plants, and also is full of helpful information that is needed almost daily in every Southern home. It's the most valuable seed book ever published and you will be mighty glad you've got it. Just write and ask for the new Catalog.

BORDEN PURCHASES LAMAR ROSS PLACE

Mr. John Borden just the other day purchased what is known as the Lamar Ross farm, a tract of 400 acres almost immediately north and on the same side of the Jefferson Davis highway as the Dowe tract of 800 acres which he bought some ten days ago. This last purchase makes nearly 7,000 acres in the Glenwild farm.

The Ross property is already beautiful property. It is ideally located when the artitistic Borden touch is given it, it will look still more like the lovely girl with a new frock and the first rose of springtime.

The Ross purchase brings the Glenwild estate still nearer Grenada. It is stated that Mr. Borden expects to convert this into a dairy farm. He will place some experienced dairymen from the northwest on the property and give still another exhibition of what may be done with the farm lands of Grenada County.

Glenwild is already known as one of the best and most beautifully planned and kept farm properties in the whole country. It has aided a very great deal in placing Grenada still further on the map. It has made Grenada "stock" go higher and higher on the "exchanges". There is not a one in Grenada County who does not wish Mr. Borden every success and who does not take a rather personal pride in what he is doing and in what he is showing to the farming and to the stock world.

May Glenwild grow and prosper and may its calculating owner realize his most optimistic expectations from it.

DR. FREDERICK D. LOSEY PLEASES AUDIENCES

Grenada has had an intellectual treat this week in the person of Dr. Frederick D. Losey of New York City who spent Wednesday and Thursday here and appeared on the rostrum at Grenada College chapel at 11 o'clock a. m. and in the evening at 8 o'clock. Dr. Losey is a noted dramatist and lecturer. He is a delightfully companionable man and impresses one as being imbued with a desire and an ambition to lead the mind of men and women away from the turbid, entangling and perplexing things of everyday life to realms where they may drink from the cup of culture and commune with the souls of the world's greatest intellects through writings which they have left as a memorial to the world. By this it is not to be construed tht he is not a practical man, but he seems to think that the best way to deal with the practical and difficult problems of the hour is through the mind, and he seeks to emphasize that the mind cannot feed upon the husks that lie around about, but that it must delve into the past and from the past learn what is best to be done with the present. By no means does he seek to separate the mind from the soul. He deals with man as a composite whole and naturally it follows that if the mind and the soul feed upon the better things of life that the diet will develop the best in man, just as the food of one of the lower animals in a great measure determines what he develops.

Wednesday morning he discussed Shakespeare's Macbeth as the gate way or prelude to his dramatization of the play that evening. He held his audience captive from the very initial sentence to the closing one.

That night his reading was pronounced by the best critics as being almost perfect. He carried his audience along step by step; he brought into review the characters of what many of the world's greatest scholars regard as being one of the greatest writers of all time. He showed the intrigue and the jealousies of human nature in a way that was bound to make a profound impression on the young ladies of the college and the students of the high school of Grenada. As Dr. Losey went from scene to scene, one readily recognized the origin of many trite and pertinent expressions and sentences that have been appreciated by writers and speakers with telling effect ever since Shakespeare lived.

Thursday morning he talked on the music of verse. He puts his stamp of disapproval on jazz. He stated that there was too much jazz and that the very movements caused by jazz were immoral and lead the mind away from cultural things. He showed that music was written into all true reading and that it was the truest and most natural expression of art in speech. The lecture was a beautiful blending of true logic, pleasing discourse and ponderous and persuasive thought.

OCCER FOOTBALL AT GLENWILD PLANTATION

Last week end for the first time probably in the history of the district a "soccer" or association football match was played on the sports ground at Glenwild Plantation by two teams selected from local athletes and John Borden's employees. When the teams lined up for the kick-off, it appeared as if there had really been a "gathering of the clans." One noticed players and ex-players from some of the most famous clubs extant; to mention a few, there were represented Onwentsia Polo Club, All American Rugby Team, and from overseas St. Mirren, Coldstream Blues Association Clubs, Duncondra Hockey Club, Dublin Wanderers and Heriotians Rugby Clubs, as well as members of local clubs of repute in baseball and basketball. A motley gathering, many not as young or supple as they were ten or fifteen years ago, but still possessing the spirit that had helped to carry their colors to victory in many a hard fought game and suggesting the fact that the clean sporting atmosphere of Grenada County is conducive to eternal youth.

The teams were as follows:

Glenwild Nomads—Corbett, Duggan, Brydon, Erskine, Smith, Buck McCracken, Borden, Dockery, Parkes Prather.

Glenwild Rangers—Phillips, Milne, Hamilton, Kirkwood, Davis, Dr. Dawson, Scott, Harding, Ames, Quinney.

Referee—Mr. Prather.

The first half was remarkable for fast and exciting play, and several good chances to score were spoiled by over eagerness, each end of the field was visited in turn, but the defense on both sides was sound. Towards the close of this period a passing moment was initiated by Erskine, the ball travelling in turn to Parkes, Dockery and Borden, the latter scoring cleverly from a difficult angle. The whistle for half time left the score

Glenwild Nomads, 1 goal

Glenwild Rangers, nil.

The second half opened up in lively style, the Rangers forwards making a fierce onslaught on the Nomads goal, but the defence prevailed.

Towards the middle of this half the rangers pressure commenced to tell on the opposing defence and a passing movement in which most of the Rangers forwards took part culminated in Hamilton scoring an excellent goal after the Nomads backs had been well beaten.

This seemed to nettle the Nomads who made several determined attempts to regain the lead, and towards the end of the game, not to be denied, a splendid passing movement in which McCracken, Borden and Dockery were prominent resulted in the latter registering another goal, thus giving Nomads the lead again, and proving to be the winning score.

The final whistle blew leaving Nomads winners by the odd goal in three:

Glenwild Nomads, 2 goals (Borden and Dockery)

Glenwild Rangers, 1 goal (Hamilton).

The game was remarkably fast, considering the short training period, and breaches of the rules were few and not serious. This was an agreeable surprise to the older hands and a testimony to the keenness of the "initiates" to whom only a short resume of the major points of the game was given beforehand. While every player "did his bit" unsparingly, special mention should be made of the following for whom this game marked their entry into the "Soccer" fraternity — McCracken, Dockery, Borden, Parkes, Corbett, Smith and Prather of Nomads, and for the losers Phillips, Davis, Scott, Harding, Quinney, Scott and Ames, all of whom displayed unusual talent and keenness.

Mr. Prather, who acted as referee, performed a difficult task with credit and evidently his impartiality in making decisions pleased both teams, for he was given three rousing cheers at the close of the game.

It is hoped to have many more such matches at Glenwild, and the next is listed for this week-end, probably Sunday at 3 p. m. and will be a return match between these teams. The ground will also be open for practice and training each evening, and the Committee will be glad to receive the names of those wishing to take part in future matches. These names should be handed in to Mr. Dockery at the Glenwild Plantation Store.
